Miners Walkout In Second Day; Many Affected

Some Industries Will Begin
To Feel Pinch Of Strike
Conditions At Once

BIG LOSSES ARE BEING CAUSED

PITTSBURGH, March 15.—(INS)—More than 400,000 United Mine Workers east of the Mississippi began the second day of a two-week "mourning" period today as quietly as they had passed the first.

Statistics show that it's a costly proposition for everyone affected by the memorial stoppage. Although a record stockpile of coal enables the steel mills to maintain production without curtailment, other allied industries are feeling the pinch.

In the steel industry itself, Bethlehem Steel Co. officials announced the firm had only a few weeks' coal supply on hand. A spokesman added:

"Obviously, reduction of operations will have to begin long before theoretical reserves are exhausted."

Many Furloughed

Railroads have furloughed some 60,000 workers for the duration. Officials of the Pennsylvania railroad, which furloughed 20,000 men, estimated its probable loss at six million dollars.

The miners themselves will lose 60 million dollars in wages and nearly four million dollars—at 20 cents a ton—in royalties for the UMW welfare fund.

A mild dispute has developed between unemployment compensation officials and local heads in three states, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana. Pennsylvania and West Virginia have repudiated miners' claims for unemployment compensation because the men left their jobs voluntarily.

Apparently the matter will be settled by the courts.

This is the 20th time in 30 years that the miners have caused a major coal stoppage.

PA NEW OBSERVES

This is March 15, last day for filing reports of income tax for the past year.

Thursday is St. Patrick's Day, and will be the occasion of numerous special programs in the city and county.

Just when does spring begin this year? Pa. News notes that some calendars have spring making its debut on March 20, and others March 21, this year.

While spring is only a few days distant, weather conditions this morning were very much on the wintry side. Temperature was about 20 degrees and March winds and snow prevailed during the night. However, much of the snow blew off highways and travel was not so difficult.

Come to think of it, the past winter was one that was featured by lack of iceicles hanging to buildings around the city and county, as well as lack of snow and ice on the ground.

Refunds from federal income tax are coming in very nicely for some people, according to City Treasurer Bernard N. Hanlon, who stated today that the refunds are being used to pay city taxes.

The federal income tax office at Pittsburgh is sending out refunds in the order in which tax reports are received.

Rationing Of Clothing Is Ended In Britain

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, March 15.—Mr. and Mrs. John Bull threw away their clothing ration books today and were told they would have more to eat, less to smoke and drink, and continue to pay high taxes in 1949.

A 30,000-word economic survey had both good and bad news for Britishers who have lived under rigid purchasing controls for nearly eight years.

The white paper states bluntly that Britain's position is still dangerous, but adds hopefully that the most pressing economic difficulties should be overcome providing industries reach their targets. Finance is kept steady, and Marnane is kept steady.

Court Directs Plea Entering For Gubitchev

Soviet U. N. Employee Refuses To Answer In Court Or Accept Counsel

NEW YORK, March 15.—(INS)—Valentin A. Gubitchev, Soviet U. N. employee, refused today to answer the government's spy charges against him, and Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind then directed that a "not guilty" plea be entered in his behalf.

Gubitchev was ordered to trial April 1—the same date set for trial of his alleged co-conspirator in espionage, 27-year-old Brooklyn-born Judith Coplon, justice department analyst.

Refuses Counsel

The 32-year-old Soviet engineer-diplomat, in addition to refusing to answer the government's spy indictment, also rejected the services of Fowler Hamilton, an attorney appointed by the court.

Five Hundred Month Old Pullets Burned

Damage Of $800 Sustained In Early Morning Blaze On Lloyd
Kildoo Farm At R. D. 4

Slippery Rock Township Volunteer Firemen were called at 5:30 a. m. today to the home of Lloyd Kildoo, R. D. 4, old County Line road, where they found two brooder houses on the property burning.

The two brooder houses contained 500 one month old pullets which along with the brooder houses were completely destroyed causing damage estimated by the owner at $800. According to Mr. Kildoo, the fire evidently started from oil brooder stoves in the buildings.

By the time firemen had gotten to the scene of the fire, the property was almost entirely consumed and nothing could be saved according to Harry Leathers, chief of the Slippery Rock volunteer department. No insurance was carried by the owner of the property on the buildings or contents.

House Vote On Rent Control Is Expected Today

House Democratic Leaders
Claim Vote Will Be Victory
By Narrow Margin

BILL CONTINUES CONTROL 15 MONTHS

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—(INS)—An administration spokesman said today that the house may vote this afternoon to give states and local governments authority to end federal rent controls in 15 days.

The forecast, if borne out, would hand the administration a major defeat and virtually cripple federal control over rents.

By SAM FOGG

WASHINGTON, March 15.—House Democratic leaders claimed enough votes to give the administration a narrow victory in the hammer-and-tongs battle over continuing federal rent controls.

The legislation would continue controls for 15 months after the present law expires March 31.

Majority Whip Priest (D) Tenn., predicted that despite the threat of a Republican-Southern Democratic coalition, Truman supporters will fend off "crippling" amendments and pass the bill before nightfall.

He disclosed however, that he is banking on a margin of only 20 votes against a move to permit states and political subdivisions to end rent controls if they wish. The "local option" proposal has support from both sides of the aisle.

Rep. Williams (D) Miss., offered an amendment which would terminate the bill.

Denmark And Iceland Given Pact Demands

Publication Of North Atlantic
Powers Pact Is Expected On Friday

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The foreign ministers of Iceland and Denmark were assured of full United States military assistance today provided they make strategic airbases available to the North Atlantic powers in event of hostilities.

Both nations were assured in discussions on the North Atlantic Alliance that no demands would be made for peacetime bases.

The United States would ask only that airfields be built during peacetime which would accommodate such bombers as the atom-bomb carrying B-36.

Denmark's Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen planned to hold his final conferences with Secretary of State Dean Acheson before flying back to Copenhagen.

Icelandic Foreign Minister Bjarni Benediktsson also scheduled further talks at the State department.

The envoys of the North Atlantic powers who have been drafting the text of the alliance treaty planned to meet sometime today to put the finishing touches on the agreement. It is to be published Friday.

Bevin Coming To U. S. To Confer With Truman

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(INS)—British foreign secretary Bevin was disclosed today to be planning conferences in Washington with President Truman early next month, besides joining in North Atlantic pact signing ceremonies.

Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador, revealed that Bevin expects to be in Washington about a week. The foreign minister is expected to sail from England aboard the Queen Mary, March 26.

Franks said Bevin and other foreign ministers coming to Washington to affix their signatures to the North Atlantic alliance treaty "naturally" will discuss other matters during their stay in the United States.

Fire Boats Battle Huge Fire At Oakland, California, Today

OAKLAND, CALIF.—Fire boats from San Francisco pour tons of water on $1,000,000 inferno at Oakland Army base. ## Oakland, Cal. Army Base Pier Fire Destroyed

Estimate Of Loss In Spectacular
Blaze Are Placed
At $1,000,000

OAKLAND, Cal., March 15.—(INS)—A general alarm $1,000,000 blaze which brought all available firefighting equipment to the scene swept through the Oakland Army Base's Pier 4 today.

The spectacular blaze broke out shortly after midnight and raged for three hours before the combined efforts of the entire Oakland fire department and several fireboats brought it under control.

Flames, fed by the explosions of drums of oil mushroomed hundreds of feet into the air, and set afire two transports lying alongside the pier.

Compromise Is Being Sought To End Filibuster

New Peace Moves Are Considered In Hope Of Reaching Senate Agreement

SENATOR TALKS FOR 12 HOURS; 21 MINUTES

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(INS)—Chances for ending the 14-day-old southern filibuster brightened today when administration Democrats approved a new compromise proposal which it was believed Dixie Democrats may accept.

The Senate convened at noon after a turbulent night session lasting 14 hours and 25 minutes, in which Southern Democrats helped Republicans block an administration effort to surrender the gag rule fight temporarily.

By FRANK B. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Senate administration leaders considered a new peace move today in the hope of ending the 14-day-old southern anti-gag rule filibuster and breaking the legislative log-jam.

Northern and western senators—who last night turned down a compromise proposal by administration, Dixie and Republican leaders—went into a meeting today and considered new steps.

A senator leaving the conference early said that this two-point rule change proposal is being discussed:

Last Day To Make Income Tax Reports

If you haven't filed your income tax, you better get it in the mail and on the way to Collector Stanley Granger at Pittsburgh, before midnight tonight, or you will be classified as delinquent, and subject to a heavy fine. This was the last minute warning issued by G. H. Funkhouser, deputy collector here today.

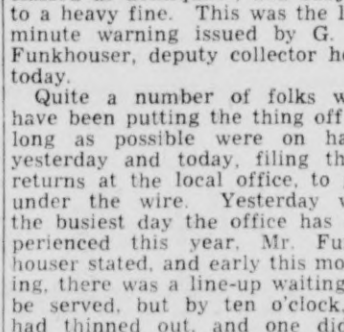

Quite a number of folks who have been putting the thing off as long as possible were on hand yesterday and today, filing their returns at the local office, to get under the wire. Yesterday was the busiest day the office has experienced this year. Mr. Funkhouser stated, and early this morning, there was a line-up waiting to be served, but by ten o'clock, it had thinned out, and one didn't have to wait. However, it is expected that the office will be comfortably busy the rest of the day.

The office will close promptly at 5 o'clock this evening, and there will be no extension. If you don't get into the office here by that time, you will have to put your return into an envelope and mail it to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Pittsburgh, but you better do it before midnight.

U. S. Red Leaders To Be Summoned Before Congress

Will Be Asked To Tell Why They Should Not Be Shorn Of U. S. Nationality

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(INS)—American communist leaders will be summoned before Congress to tell House lawmakers why they should not be shorn of their United States nationality.

Rep. Walter (D) Pa., revealed today that prominent communist party officials will be invited to testify before the House immigration subcommittee soon on his bill to declare them "stateless."

Among them will be William Z. Foster, communist party head and Eugene Dennis, its secretary. Foster is under indictment and Dennis is now on trial in federal court for conspiracy to overthrow the government.

The communist leaders are expected to be asked to state whether they would support the United States or Russia in the event of a war between the two countries.

Foster and Dennis recently aligned themselves with the Soviet Union, along with communist leaders in other countries.

shall plan aid amounting to 940 million dollars is made available. The laborite government's report said that the United Kingdom's deficit in the overall balance of payments has virtually disappeared. This was recently estimated at almost one and one-half billion dollars.

A coincident with the termination of clothing rationing, Britons learned that their nation is still in debt in dollars areas—meaning that much British-made clothes will be exported.

"Year of Restraint"

The survey asked for another "year of restraint" regarding wages and income and more savings to combat the danger of inflation.

High taxes, said the white paper, are likely to continue. On a more cheerful note, the report predicted that the average Briton will eat 2990 calories daily this year, as compared to 2860 last year.

One point of the plan foreshadowed a slash in tobacco imports from 21 million pounds (84 million dollars) to two million pounds, (8 million dollars).

The survey told Britons that their government was sponsoring an all-out drive for American markets.

Scores of Londoners read about the economic report as they hurried to clothing stores to take advantage of yesterday's order taking wearing apparel off the ration list.

But others greeted the announcement of clothing de-control with one question—"Where's the money?"

Each captain will pick four or five men to contact various members of the "Y" and also get new members.

The drive will get under way with a dinner-meeting March 22.

Senate Has New Champion Talker

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(INS)—Sen. Ellender (D) La., with a filibuster mark of 12 hours, 21 minutes, uninterupted speech making today is the Senate's new all-time "talkathon" champion.

Ellender's feat in support of the southern filibuster against a proposed Senate gag rule broke by nearly an hour the former non-stop record. That mark, 11 hours, 25 minutes, was set in 1915 by Sen. Huey Long (D) La., Robert M. LaFollette (Progressive) Wis., and other senators made longer elapsed-time speeches but did so with the aid of frequent quorum calls. Ellender talked without any such respite.

Ellender's nearest competitor in recent times was Sen. Morse (R) Ore., who talked for 10 hours in 1947 in a vain attempt to block a Senate vote overriding President Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley act.

In 1948 Vic Raschi was the leading winner on the pitching staff of the New York Yankees but his record against the Boston Red Sox was 0-3.

HOUSE VOTE ON RENT CONTROL IS EXPECTED TODAY

minate federal controls 15 days after the local body of a state, municipality, county or other political subdivision adopted a resolution that they were no longer required and notified the housing expediter.

A similar amendment, sponsored by Rep. Miller (R) Neb., called for an end of controls in 10 days if the people in a state or locality voted to kill them.

The bill, which was hotly debated for two days last week, also faced a final move by house Republicans to limit extension to 90 days. Rep. Wolcott (R) Mich., will reoffer the amendment, tentatively defeated Friday, for a roll call vote today.

The Republican amendment which would continue controls until June 30 was turned down Friday by a vote of 178 to 163. The administration originally asked that controls be maintained for another two years but agreed to the compromise extension of 15 months.

The bill backed by administration supporters also would strengthen the government's enforcement powers.

death racket will be tried in New York for the murder of Mrs. Janet Fay, 50, last Jan. 4.

Mrs. Beck and her swarthy lover lost their last hope of remaining in Michigan when Kent County Circuit Judge Dale Souter yesterday denied their motion for a habeas corpus writ at an extradition hearing.

Immediately after the hearing a New York City attorney, Herbert E. Rosenberg, announced he had been retained to defend Fernandez and said he would file for a writ of habeas corpus in New York.

He said he would base the action on grounds that Fernandez and Mrs. Beck were induced to confess the murder of Mrs. Fay by a promise that they would be permitted to remain in Michigan, which has no death penalty.

require all bills to be read in full until final adjournment of the assembly unless a public hearing was granted.

He explained that no hearings had been called on the measure during its three weeks in the senate highways committee. Walker told Haluska that hearings were not requested.

Filibuster Collapses

The filibuster collapsed as night fell, however, due to lack of interest among Democratic members and in view of the Republican leadership's willingness to call an informal, secret hearing.

The 12-member committee, equally divided among Republicans and Democrats, is slated to receive testimony from R. A. Wagner of Johnstown, president of the State Gasoline Retail Dealers Association. The association has opposed the tax hike due to potential business losses to retail dealers in border-line counties of the commonwealth.

Committee members include: Republican Sens. Walker, M. Harvey Taylor, Dauphin; Fred P. Hare, Jr., Somerset; James S. Berger, Potter; John G. Snowden, Lycoming; and Lloyd H. Wood, Montgomery; Democratic Sens. Neil, Lane, Haluska, John H. Dent, Westmoreland; Elmer J. Holland, Allegheny; and Anthony J. DiSilvestro, Philadelphia.

Meanwhile, the bulk of the administration's tax program is expected to reach Gov. James H. Duff's desk this week. Although administration leaders have ruled out delay of the gas tax boost due to Democratic opposition, the measure may be stymied because of technical errors in the title of the bill.

COMPROMISE IS BEING SOUGHT TO END FILIBUSTER

except debate on a future gag rule change by a two-thirds vote of senators present.

2. To permit silencing of debate on a future gag rule change only by a "constitutional two thirds" majority—two thirds of the Senate's full membership, or 64 of the 96 senators.

The new peace discussion came after a turbulent Senate session which ended at 2:45 a. m. and in which Southern Democrats joined Republicans in blocking administration efforts to surrender temporarily to the filibuster.

Before the administration huddle began, Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., maintained that concessions to break the filibuster must come from the southern senators.

Wary from the long talk-fest which went into the early morning hours, Lucas nevertheless said that the administration senators will stand pat against the "constitutional two thirds" gag rule compromise.

May Accept Proposal

Lucas indicated he still had some hopes that the Dixie senators will accept a proposal providing for closure by two thirds of those present on issues other than a future gag-rule change, which would be left open to filibuster.

Dixie bloc sources said, however, that their group had no plans for a conference today before the session opens.

As the 14th day of the stalemate opened, southern senators were ready to continue their filibuster, with Sen. Robertson (D) Va., scheduled to speak.

Lasted 14½ Hours

Yesterday's bitter session lasted 14 and one-half hours.

The administration, which had been ordered by President Truman to fight to the finish in the gag-rule crisis, acknowledged at least temporary loss of its battle to clear the way for civil rights legislation by reforming Senate rules.

Southern Democrats pressed their advantage and insisted on an iron-clad promise that the gag rule issue will not be raised again at this session. This would shut off all chance of enactment of Mr. Truman's civil rights program this year.

Sen. Ellender (D) La., carried the Dixie banner to victory when he set a new filibuster record by talking continuously for 12 hours and 21 minutes without pausing even for a quorum call.

Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., in announcing the administration's surrender, said:

"We are perfectly aware that this filibuster can run on for weeks. They (the southerners) have the manpower to do it. In the meantime, rent control would go out the window, not to mention the logjam of other legislation."

TRANSFER OF SALARIES

The middle class, or working man, thought he was about to be entitled to a smile on account of a small reduction in the things that he has to have for he and his family. But, he has another thought coming, for about that time, the Governor of Pennsylvania and the President of United States has to have a raise in salary.

We would like to know why they have to have a raise in salary, when things that they use, as well as the working man, start to go down. Why should their salaries have to be raised, when, if any change in the working man's salary, it will be a reduction.

Not only the raise in salaries of these men, but the increase in taxes, when everything else is going the other way.

Several of the delegation Monday said they were not protesting the increase in assessments as much as they were inequalities.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELE
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15.—A cotton skirt—with a Houdini halter that can be draped in 11 disguises—is the hottest hot-weather fashion of the day.

It's a simple daytime skirt that flares to mid-calf length, with a wide band of matching fabrics attached to the center of the waist in front.

This versatile addition can be draped to form: a cummerbund; a strapless bodice; an off-shoulder gypsy blouse, or a Victorian bustle back.

The seven other wrappings of the skirtband, styled for every occasion from cock-fights to cotillions, are more intricate.

But they require little extra sleight of hand—thanks to a booklet of directions worth the price of the skirt alone.

Panama Canal Toll Increases Are Postponed

WASHINGTON, March 15. — (INS) — President Truman has postponed the effective date of Panama Canal toll increases until September 1, 1949.

The present 90-cent per ton rate on merchant vessels and other ships carrying passengers and cargo will remain in effect until that date. A proclamation last March would have increased the rate to a dollar a ton effective October 1, 1948.

The increase has been postponed for the second time, however, until the House Merchant Marine committee concludes a study of the canal's financial operation. This study is to be completed not later than June 30, 1949, according to a House resolution.

Other increases, postponed by today's order, include a 72 to 80 cent per ton increase on vessels in ballast, and a 50 to 55 cent per ton increase on other craft including warships.

REPLYING TO INVITATIONS

"It is always difficult for me to reply to invitations. Will you, please, therefore, give me the proper form for writing formal and informal acceptances and regrets? Tell me also when these replies should be sent, to whom, etc., etc."

Answer: Occasions that require invitations are formal weddings, elaborate dinners, formal teas, receptions, dances and garden parties. These invitations are written in the third person and require replies in that person, regardless of the intimate relationship or friendship between you and the hostess. Here is the form:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith accept with pleasure Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jones' kind invitation for Saturday the sixteenth of April at seven o'clock

In the case of a regret, this line is substituted for the second line above: "regret that they are unable to accept."

Your reply must be made within a week after receipt of the invitation and it must be addressed to both the host and the hostess issuing the invitation.

Informal invitations should be answered in the formal first person: "Dick and I will be delighted to dine with you and Frank," etc., etc. Or, if you are merely acquaintances not yet passed the "Mr. and Mrs." stage, your reply might be: "My husband and I will be delighted to dine with you and Mr. Jones on Thursday, the fourteenth at seven o'clock."

This reply should be addressed to the hostess, but have reference to the host, as indicated. It should be sent by the wife but accepted or declined for the husband as well. The invitation should be acknowledged as soon as possible after receipt. The date and time are usually mentioned in both a formal and an informal reply, to let the hostess know that you understand both.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped addressed envelopes.

JOHN L'S CROCODILE TEARS

Few Americans—and this includes coal miners—will be impressed with the announced reason for the present coal strike. When John L. Lewis announces it is a "two week" period of mourning for miners who have been killed or injured he is merely shedding crocodile tears.

The death of one man or the injury of one man in any industry calls for genuine mourning, mourning that results in safer working conditions, not a mourning that idles hundreds of thousands of bread winners.

The real reason for Mr. Lewis' latest dictatorial gesture lies in his opposition to the appointment of Dr. James Boyd to head the Federal Bureau of Mines. John doesn't like Dr. Boyd and in order to show his Olympian disdain for the presidential appointment pulls his miners from the pits, and causes thousands of other workers to be idle.

As for District Chairman John P. Busarello's claim for unemployment compensation for the striking miners this rates as the trick of the year if he can get away with it.

The miners are unemployed, not because of a shut-down by the operators, not because of fire, floods, or act of God. They are unemployed because they are following blindly the edict of a super-egotist who dislikes a man who has been appointed by the President of the United States.

Some of the rest of us might strike with equal reason because the tax collector insists upon his due, because the home town lost a ball game or because the governor of the state eats sugar on his tomatoes.

John L's memory must be shorter than a we thought. The Taft-Hartley act was born because of the disdain of certain labor leaders for the rights of the public. Lewis' action just now will certainly not add weight to the demand of labor that the act should be repealed.

Such actions could very well lead to more restrictive legislation. As for John L's "mourning period," it leaves us cold.

LOGIC IS INESCAPABLE

Once again, this time in dealing with the Department of Commerce, the Hoover Commission bases its recommendations on sound logic. It is important to recognize that fact because this report makes sweeping proposals that are highly likely to encounter powerful opposition.

Certainly the report is logical in noting that Congress, when it set up the Department of Commerce, intended it to "embrace the government's interest in the development and safeguarding of transportation." It is also logical in pointing its suggested changes in a direction to make this purpose effective.

That is, the department would be made responsible for water, land and air transportation, developing it in peace and mobilizing it in war.

To this end the commission would place in the department such agencies as the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics, the Coast Guard, the Public Roads Administration. Commerce would also take over the task of buying, selling and subsidizing ships from the Maritime Commission, bus and truck safety operations from the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the duty of issuing and enforcing air safety rules from the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The commission would not abolish such agencies as the ICC and the CAB. It would merely take from them the executive functions they now exercise and leave them to carry out their responsibilities as regulating bodies.

It is to be expected that this report will not appeal to some people. No government agency likes to surrender power nor does any bureaucrat take kindly to a loss of authority. But the logic of these recommendations is inescapable.

GREAT YEAR FOR FIRE

Fire had a great year in 1948. It destroyed property worth more than $711,000,000 for a new all-time record. It brought the total of destruction for the past ten years to nearly $4,500,000.

The experts give various reasons for the toll. Property values have increased, there has been a greater concentration of values, and the occupancy rate of buildings has been abnormally high. Overloading and overcrowding has caused a rapid obsolescence in many heating plants and electrical circuits. New industrial processes have come into use without adequate safeguards. Communities have been growing faster than their fire departments, and industry has expanded into areas where fire protection and water supplies are not up to par. The material shortages which characterized the war years have not yet been made up.

These are all important reasons for high fire loss—but they are not excuses. For, back of 90 percent of all fire, is the human element. Someone is careless. Someone is ignorant. Someone takes a chance. And then fire strikes.

We can improve our fire departments and better protect our industries and all the rest. But that is only part of the job. An informed public is vital to the fight against fire. The disgraceful record of last year and prior years should be enough to awaken us all to that fact.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The London meeting of Brussels pact signatories gave fresh emphasis to the new concept of co-operation that has arisen in western Europe and confronted V. M. Molotov with the nub of the problem that Premier Stalin has called upon him to solve.

It is simply this: What can Communism do to split the western bloc before it molds itself into a force of such concrete potency that the Communist doctrine of "divide and conquer" will split itself in confusion and disorder upon its ramps?

Kremlin Concerned
There is little doubt as to the depth of the Kremlin's concern over its failure to crush or even modify the growing determination on the part of the western democracies to fortify themselves against aggression, whether armed attack or merely an intensification of the "boring from within" that has achieved major success in many spheres.

Although not officially explained as yet, the shift of Molotov from his post as foreign minister to a place, presumably even closer to the side of Stalin doubtless reflects the Kremlin's fears.

The harsh persecution of clergymen in Hungary, Bulgaria, and elsewhere probably stems from this concern, for in the final analysis it furnishes an eloquent "object lesson" to dissident elements everywhere, and Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and his co-defendants have been dealt with. Sofia has finished up its tragicomic trial of Protestant clergymen.

We Will Side With Russia
Maurice Thorez of France and Palmiro Togliatti of Italy lit the fuse and burned out the dynamite of Moscow's ingenious "we side with Russia" blast which seems to have misfired strangely at least to the extent of lacking the thunderous impact that had been anticipated.

French and American espionage probes are beginning to turn up real evidences of conspiracy and Lord Vansittart of Britain has focused his keen eye on Communist intrigues within the heart of London.

Thus the situation is more or less in the open and the Russians apparently are hard to find some new store of ammunition to use in action a weapon of propaganda and infiltration that needs constant priming to be in the least effective.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Somehow or other I can't ever think of you folks who read this column as "readers."

Otherwise I would be much more pontifical in my approach, much more selective in my subjects, much more erudite in my language. In other words, I wouldn't say "I wouldn't"—I'd say "I would not." I'd say "Afternoon" and "cawnt"—and I'd make a gosh darn fool of myself.

All this introduction because people are eternally sending me letters asking me what I look like, and what kind of stockings my wife wears and, believe it or not, a couple of days ago someone even inquired whether or not she wears a girdle.

And, believe it or not, after being married twenty-seven years plus, I didn't know and I had to ask her and she told me to tell my inquirer that it wasn't any of her gosh darn business whether or not she wore a girdle and, anyhow, the darn thing pinches her so it isn't any joke.

Well, if I keep on interrupting myself, I'll never get to my point, which also deals with a letter I had from a reader.

I must have such interesting mail, writes this fellow, and he wants to know how many letters I get every day and whether I answer them all.

So let us look at today's mail. Here's a letter from Time Magazine and still another from the same publication.

In one of them they tell me that this year they are celebrating their 25th birthday, and would I please direct the enclosed card right back to F. D. Pratt, the circulation director, (and, by the way, a friend of mine) today. The words airmail and today are underlined.

The offer is a special one—44 weeks at only $3.87.

Congratulations, on your 25th birthday, but I am not going to answer this letter.

The other one, from the same magazine, starts "Fitter was a baby compared with this gang," and offers me Time at $6.50 for 52 issues. It ends with a request to mail the card "right back to me, please today (underlined). Cordially, F. D. Pratt."

I am not going to answer that one either, but I wish that F. D. Pratt would get together with F. D. Pratt and make up his mind what Time magazine wants to do for me.

Here is another one: "Dear Friend: Will you be Cor- onet's guest..."

It ends with an urgent request to slip a dollar into the convenient reply envelope "right now."

Will I be their guest? At one dollar? Sounds like a Pyramid Friendship Club, doesn't it?

Another letter, from the Public Relations News. They are reserving a copy of the "Free Publicity Guide for Executives" for me. All I have to do is send them $5.00 for 13 copies of their magazine. But "drop it in the mail, now, while the card is handy," says F. S. Binder, the business manager.

There are ten or twelve more like these. They won't be answered, but they are carefully filed away until next Thursday.

Then the garbage men come and put them in the permanent file. (Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

One of the most significant aspects of the east-west "cold war" at this stage is the manner in which the initiative if not the offensive has passed over to the western Democratic Allies.

The Brussels powers meeting in itself is eloquent proof of this and the program for the future affords even more.

More Than Gesture
There were many skeptics who felt that when Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg signed a 50-year pact of mutual assistance it was little more than a gesture prompted by certain failures in the international sphere and at best a sort of prop to falling prestige.

The contrary has proved to be the case. The three benelux nations have made great progress in framing a regional agreement destined eventually to wipe out customs and trade barriers.

They have pooled many of their resources and plan to do this on an even larger scale.

Great Britain has sent jet fighter planes and the designs for more of them to France and the French army is being revitalized with both British and American equipment.

Added to all of this is the council of Europe, an organization that struck a chord of sympathy everywhere on the continent, including hesitant Scandinavia, and the North Atlantic pact which in a short time will become an actual working agreement instead of a sheaf of documents bearing seals and ribbons.

Against this array of cooperation and united democratic strength Molotov has the job of finding something new to offer. In his behalf it must be said that he never has feared a difficult assignment. But it is probable he never faced a harder one than this.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CORPORAL PUNISHMENT SHOULD BE SPARING

Here I want to say emphatically that I consider spanking of an adolescent child by his or her parents as silly and barbarous. No one has ever heard me advise punishment of teen-agers or read recommendations of such from me. Now and then some older who does not weigh carefully what I write may jump to the conclusion that I refer to children of all ages when I purposely advise selective spanking, in certain specific types of behavior, of the pre-school child. But I think I have been pretty careful to indicate the approximate age of the youngster whose punishment I may be discussing.

Before School Age

Repeatedly I have said in this column that parents should aim to be done with spanking or any other kind of corporal punishment, before the child is old enough to enter school, even by the time he is three or four. Consistently I have maintained that the child beginning to walk about can learn best the meaning of "No" (rarely and cautiously uttered) through physical pain applied and sharply to his bare hands or bare thighs by the parent's bare flat hand. If such is done consistently in connection with a few specific acts or objects he should avoid—done always immediately and without exception—he soon will learn also to avoid a few necessary new prohibitions on hearing "No" uttered just once, in a moderate tone as mere information. (My related bulletins on "Stubbornness" and "How Teach To Mean of 'No'" may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

But as the tot may need some punishment thereafter he should have been prepared to stay where put for a definite period of time. Accordingly, he can profit from the chair-sitting punishment (having to sit in a chair without amusement, where you can see him). Times of punishment: 15 minutes for the tot two or three; 20 minutes for the youngster four or five; 30 minutes for the child six or seven; 50 minutes for the child eight to ten. So trained in these earlier years, the adolescent child who is sent to his room for a period of time or denied a cherished privilege is likely to accept the punishment without marked resistance.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Here we are... 15th of March... more commonly known as the Ides of March... do you ever wonder what they mean when they say the above. Looking it up in Webster we find that the 15th of March, May, July and October are all known as the Ides... and that the 13th of other months are the Ides.

This information and custom has been handed down through the years by legend from the Romans... it was a certain day in their months. But for some reason the 15th of March was outstanding... a day of "it" will so speak. Remember back in history... Julius Caesar was warned to beware of the Ides of March... and as the story goes... Caesar was killed on that day.

This seemed to clinch it all... from that time until present almost everyone who goes by superstition keeps hold of that feeling that we all should beware of the 15th of March... maybe it was with that thought in mind that our government set March 15th as income tax day... The last day of file returns... otherwise we are warned "beware."

This might cause some confusion... but going back to the time when Caesar was living and his life in danger we can say that it was his death that really put the Ides of March down as a bad day... For the Romans had a way of marking their calendar much differently from our own way... first they didn't have as many days per year... The first of their months was known as Calends... Nones was the 8th and the Ides according to the above Webster explanation.

Romans reckoned the days backwards... for example... so many days before the Ides or Calends or Nones... Those who have taken study of Roman history more seriously will be able to give a much more satisfactory picture. Right now all we of modern times can think about is the 15th of March, 1949. No income tax return... Beware, the wolf will be at the door... rush and worry accompany our day the same as they must have done to Julius Caesar.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

American Zone Change Likely

WASHINGTON, March 15.—For at least two years, the State department has been planning to take over administration of the American zone of occupied Germany. The State department planners have so long been on the outside looking in that they cannot bring themselves to believe this miracle will come to pass.

Yet once again they are dusting off and refurbishing the organization charts and detailed plans. And this time there is some reason to hope that civilians may ultimately determine and administer German policy, which has up until now been largely determined by the military.

Reason For New Hope
One reason for the new hope is the presence in the State department of Robert Murphy at the head of a division of German and Austrian affairs. Murphy has been sitting for four years at General Clay's right hand in Berlin. He knows the problem thoroughly and he has the confidence of military men who would, of course, continue to have an important role in the occupation.

Whether Murphy in Washington and a civilian administrator in Berlin could reverse the trend of the past year is a question. Decisions have been taken by former Under Secretary of Army William Draper in the Pentagon building and Clay in Berlin that seem to commit this country for a long way into the future.

There is a growing and unhappy conviction in this country that U. S. policy means the return of

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan
(By International News Service)

Same old story... American delegation walks out of a UN meeting and the Soviet claims it invented that too.

But this one it can prove.

Nothing much has been heard of Gromyko... With those boys you never know whether they've left the government or the world.

But it was good news that we've been able to fly a lot of cigars into Berlin... If they're going to have an iron curtain we can have a smoke screen.

And besides there's nothing appeals more to hungry people than a good cigar.

Logistics evidently is still in the hands of the people who managed to get five million cigarette lighters to the front when Eisenhower was begging for guns.

Fortunately the German advance was stopped before anybody needed a light.

Served The Nazis

Several of these men served the Nazis as managers of German steel and coal when Hitler was pushing every blast furnace to the utmost limit for rearmament. It may be argued that they are not technically the former "owners" of German industry. Nor are they members of the Krupp family.

But often, in a large corporate structure, management exerts more influence than ownership. The answer of Clay and his advisers is that only men with management and technical skill can restore Ruhr production.

What is little known in this country, however, is that the German trade unions sent in their own list of nominees who were comparatively free of the taint of having worked for the Nazis. There are indications that the State department favored this list.

Not Yet Approved

It is a significant fact that the 12 men nominated by the bi-zonal economic council have not yet been approved by the three military governors—General Clay and his opposite British and French numbers. The loud opposition from the U. S. may have something to do with the delay since Clay announced on February 26 that the decision would be taken in a week or ten days.

The time has come, it seems to me, to organize American public opinion behind a really democratic policy for Germany; a policy that would win the allegiance of the German people and not just a few managers at the top. There are signs that Secretary of State Dean Acheson wants to institute such a policy.

A nationwide conference on foreign policy would be extremely useful to Acheson and to the country. Such a conference would bring together representatives of labor, the farm organizations, the co-operatives and a wide band of independent groups representing important sections of public opinion.

First Move

The first move before such a gathering would be to review the steps that have led to the present impasse. Then it would be the duty of the conference to formulate a positive approach to the German problem. Acheson himself would in all probability want to come and address such a representative assembly.

The conference would not necessarily be restricted to Germany. The whole course of U. S. foreign policy could be reviewed and appraised. The educational value of such a meeting, in terms of public opinion and understanding, could not be estimated.

Too long we have been put off with guesses and half answers. What is more, no policy-maker, however strong his intentions, can move much beyond public opinion. The kind of gathering proposed here could be expected to back Acheson in a new approach to Germany.

As is all too apparent in Congress today, the promises and counter-promises of a campaign are quickly forgotten. A little reminder, spelled out in terms of popular conviction, is in order. (Copyright, 1949, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

This Is Uncle Sam's Day

By PAUL GALLICO

Okay, boys, cough. This is the day. But cough like gentlemen and with a smile. This is the day your Uncle Samuel takes his annual bite. You could be spending your money in a lot worse ways.

I realize that counseling you to be cheerful, brave, gay, gallant and smiling at a time like this has certain overtones of graveyard whistling to it, that this is a day when practically every man or woman who earns a living, including myself, is suffering from a thundering ache in the wallet, but, doggone it, are we going to give in? I say no. Leave us look for means of comforting ourselves.

If misery loves company, Bud, you've got it. If you could put end to end everybody past and present on earth from time immemorial who has had to fork over his bit in taxes to some government or other, some king, lord, baron or chief, they would reach to the star Vega and back again, something which strikes me as pretty useless.

Not Something Recent

For taxes are not something recent, a latter-day invention designed to make living more complicated for the citizens of our nation. It has been going on for a long, long time.

Away back in the stone age when Ug the Caveman knocked over a dinosaur by chucking his axe at his konk, a nice running shot, and was congratulating himself upon having meat for the winter, who would drop around by old Beep, the Head Man, saying:

"Nice work, Bub, and we will just collect your income taxes right now while it's still fresh. Lessee now, you got your old lady and four kids, and I understand her old man is still living with you. Hm, that will be 6 times 3 is 18, put down 8 and carry 1; expenses: flints and axes, subtract 11; deduct charity to the Cavemen's Benevolent and Burial Fund; add surtaxes—that's a lot of dinosaur you've got there, Bub, you're way up in the high brackets—you get to keep the tail and half of one foot."

The Babylonians, the Chaldeans and the ancient Egyptians knew the Tax Collector and so did the Greeks and Romans.

Directly Due To Taxation

The fact that Jesus Christ was born in Bethlehem instead of Nazareth was directly due to taxation, as reported by Luke (2:1-7) as follows:

"And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed... And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, into the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David); to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered." And thereafter he goes on to tell the story of the Nativity.

Further Good News

And I have further good news for you on this grim, bleak day, culled from my pal, the Encyclopedia Britannica which says:

"Only recently in human history have governments come to rely on taxes, especially with taxes levied equitably and with the consent of the governed, for the bulk of their revenue. For centuries, the public domain was the chief source of revenue and taxation consisted largely of excises on domestic consumption and customs duties on foreign trade."

"It was the duty of the underprivileged classes—slaves, vassals, peasants, colonists and conquered peoples—to support the ruling classes, be they free citizens of Athens and Rome, the lords and nobles of the feudal barony, or the courts of the Louis's. Taxes as a badge of freedom rather than a mark of bondage are a modern phenomenon."

So swing your bonnets aloft, brothers and sisters, light the torches and pile out of your dwellings to lead the dancing in the streets. Cast aside morose mien, brighten your countenances with smiles and laughter, shout, sing and let joy be unconfined. For this is Freedom Day!

State Police Say:

Manslaughter is one of the degrees of murder. Involuntary manslaughter is defined by statute as being the killing of another without malice and unintentionally, but in doing some unlawful act, or in negligently doing some act lawful in itself, or by the negligent omission to perform a legal duty. Operating an automobile is in itself a legal act, but if negligently operated and as a result of such negligence a human life is destroyed, the driver may be guilty of involuntary manslaughter.

THE MISSING PROOF
He was old enough to be one, for he walked at careful pace; On his vest were spots of gray; there were wrinkles in his face.

Of his lodge he'd been the master; he was chairman of the board. As a golfer, under eighty, he could boast he once had scored. But he couldn't be a grandpa, though his hair was turning gray.

For he hadn't any pictures in his wallet to display. He had made a trip to Europe and he wore a scholar's key. He'd been given many titles, for a trusted man was he. He had served as club director and its president became.

Rung by rung he'd climbed the ladder to the various posts of fame. But he couldn't be a grandpa, I am prompted now to say. For he hadn't any pictures in his wallet to display.

He had credit cards to show us, and he very often would. They were symbols, when he traveled, that the checks he wrote were good.

When we sat with him at dinner, strangers passing by could note. He had nobly served his country by the button on his coat. But he couldn't be a grandpa, for like me, from day to day.

He hadn't any pictures of a grandchild to display. (Copyright, 1949, Edgar A. Guest)

Seeks To Relax*Fireworks Law

HARRISBURG, March 15—(INS)—An attempt to relax the strict anti-fireworks law enacted a decade ago on a skyrocketing wave of killed and injured is proposed in a bill before the Senate.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Murrel Peelor (R) Indiana, would eliminate the ban on sales of sparklers and colored fire normally used in parades and outdoor events.

Mine Strike To Affect Shipping
Season On Lakes

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 15—Government transportation officials said today that Great Lakes iron ore shipments probably will be thrown off schedule by the two-week walkout of 400,000 coal miners.

The Great Lakes shipping season will open early this year because of the mild winter and the ore boats are scheduled to depart for the Minnesota iron ranges March 25.

John L. Lewis' order for a mining holiday from March 14 to 23 threatens to delay the sailing of about 40 percent of the ore vessels which haul coal on the trip up the lakes.

Experts of the office of defense transportation said there is very little cargo coal at the lake ports now for shipment.

Last year the ore fleet transported approximately eighty million tons of ore to eastern steel mills and hauled some fifty million tons of coal on trips up the lakes. ODT officials said the delay in ore movements will not affect steel operations now because the mills have 45 days' supply on hand. Any loss in ore shipments would be felt later in the year after the lake shipping season ends.

The extent to which the mine shutdown will interfere with ore traffic depends upon its length.

spanking the young child or jawing at him for such matters as nail-biting, thumb-sucking, bed-wetting, masturbation, habit spasms and the like, since such punishment or rebuke could not occur immediately and without exception and since, moreover, the emotional factors involved in relation to such behaviors arouse too serious complications to render punishment or rebuke effective.

However, I have said and say again, that the child eight or ten who has not yet learned the meaning of NO and will not stay in a chair for the allotted time when sentenced there might profit from paddling or switching for each time he left the chair, if so punished in no other situation.

Perfect self-control in parents is the foremost factor in wise guidance of children at any age. As I have often said, no parent can justify hitting a child just because she is angry at him, or shrieking at him or even raising the voice in rebuking him. In my philosophy the tongue is out as a weapon of punishment. It should be used only for giving information and for tender expression and companionship, never for jawing. Pools And Riffles

By The Roving Fisherman

Better stop daydreaming, you've got work to do. Sure, I know, you're thinking about that spot where the water churns noisily down a rocky riffle into a deep pool around the roots of a big tree. Don't worry, the big one will still be there, down under those bubbles of foam sparkling in the sun.

What's more, he'll probably still be there when you go home if you don't get busy. Remember the time you hooked a big one and your leader broke just as you had him—almost?

Time To Check Your Tackle
Now's the time to check your tackle. You won't do it on the first day, that's certain.

If you left your fly line on a reel last summer, better take it off and get it in shape. Pull it through the folds of a clean soft cloth. Try to work some of the kinks out of it and make a mental note to store it next winter in large, loose coils. Then work some line dressing into it with your fingers and rub the excess off. Too much may make it sticky.

If you use a casting reel and line, as many do for early season bait fishing, be sure to test the line near the end. The last few feet get more wear and often become surprisingly weak. When you have got a good fish on the other end of the line is no time to begin worrying about it.

It goes without saying that a reel of any type should be cleaned and oiled. There's probably still some mud in it from the time you slid down that slick mud bank. Dust will accumulate over winter, too.

You may have to buy some leaders. It's better to check now while there is plenty of time to get them than wait till too late. For bait fishing and normal high water conditions a tapered leader isn't necessary, but a good leader is. It should be at least three feet long, preferably longer, and not too stiff and heavy. Sure, trout are caught on modified tow-ropes every year, but how many? Give yourself a break. The odds are in your favor if you use a long, reasonably light leader. (Nylon material seems most satisfactory and is long lasting. The weight need not be more than six pound test, maybe eight.) Test your old leaders carefully. Be suspicious of rust spots, old knots and worn sections.

Do Your Fixing Now
Have you enough hooks? Ribbon-lead sinker material. Check over all of your tackle; it's lots of fun to tinker with it when you have plenty of time and if you discover any major repair jobs, there's still time for them. Chances are your rod windings may need touched up with some clear rod varnish. After the season starts, your spare time will be devoted to the serious business of fishing. Do your "fixing" now, you'll enjoy it and be glad you did when the fun starts.

(Say, before you go away; don't forget your license!)

JOBS UPON A TIME

JAMES A. GARFIELD was born in a log cabin in Orange, O., Nov. 19, 1831. His father died when he was a small boy and at 10 years he worked on a farm. He worked his way through Hiram college, Ohio, and became president of the college. He was a state senator, and on the outbreak of the Civil war commanded a regiment of volunteers, and was a brigadier general at the close of hostilities. He entered Congress as a Republican, then became senator, and was president of the United States in 1880. He was shot July 2, 1881, and died Sept. 15.

KNUTE ROCKNE was born in Norway March 4, 1888, and was brought to the United States by his parents when he was five. The family settled in Chicago where he attended school. A high school classmate persuaded him to attend the University of Notre Dame. In 1913, Notre Dame electrified the football world by defeating mighty Army, thanks largely to the forward passes thrown by Gus Dorais, quarterback, to our subject, who played end. He became coach of the Irish and built winning teams so consistently the name Notre Dame became the most famous in football. He was killed in a plane crash on March 31, 1931.

Radio-Telegraph Tokyo To Moscow Circuit Closed

Suspension Of Service Results From Order Of General MacArthur Today

(BULLETIN)
TOKYO, March 15.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur ordered the direct radio-telegraph circuit between Tokyo and Moscow.

The chief of the occupation of Japan gave no specific reason for his action.

His order was addressed to the Japanese government. It stated: "Due to administrative difficulties no messages of any classification will be received or transmitted over the circuit . . . unless otherwise directed by the supreme commander of the Allied Powers."

The communications section of MacArthur's headquarters refused to comment. It said the background of the general's order was of a "classified character."

Another informed source hinted, however, that some difficulty over account payments caused the suspension order.

Direct communication between Tokyo and Moscow remained available over the Great Northern cable to Vladivostok. Additionally, many channels are open for indirect communication between the Japanese and Soviet capitals.

Probe Into Sales Of Wartime Equipment

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(INS)—The War Assets Administration started a thorough investigation today into sale in Detroit of wartime signal equipment containing demolition bombs.

A War Assets official said that it was not known whether the equipment was sold to surplus wholesalers by WAA or by the Army, Navy or Air Force, but that the sale is being investigated.

He added that to date only one set known to have contained the demolition equipment has been discovered, and that it was possible that this one piece of equipment was an oversight. On the other hand, he said, an entire lot of equipment containing the bombs might have been sold by accident.

Metropolitan Reports to Policyholders on 1948 Business

HERE IS THE Financial Statement of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for last year. It is more than just figures, because back of them is the story of what 32,700,000 policyholders have done for their families and themselves.

The role of Metropolitan, like that of any Life insurance company, has been to help policyholders to make effective their individual plans for protection against the uncertainties of life. This Statement is a brief account of its stewardship.

The amount paid to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1948 was $721,366,364. Of this sum, $263,780,754 went to the beneficiaries of 235,000 policyholders; $147,045,672 to some 450,000 individuals for Matured Endowments and Annuities; and $59,403,238 for 650,000 claims for Disability and Accident & Health benefits. In addition, the total paid included sums for cash surrender values, dividends, and other payments due under outstanding policies.

The total payments by Metropolitan to policyholders and beneficiaries during the last 16 years aggregated $9,346,330,825—a sum which has served as a stabilizing influence in homes and communities throughout the country. This total exceeds the Company's assets of $9,125,145,007 as of December 31, 1948.

These assets are held to meet obligations of $8,591,210,201, of which more than 90% represents statutory reserves for future payments to policyholders and beneficiaries. Over and above these obligations, there remained a surplus of $533,934,806, which is about 6% of obligations—a backlog which must be available against the possibility of epidemics, adverse economic conditions or other unforeseeable situations.

The Company's assets guarantee the fulfillment of the $39,958,517,854 of Metropolitan life insurance in force. In addition, they assure the payment of the 448,394 annuity and supplementary contracts outstanding, and the 6,546,412 policies or certificates providing benefits in event of either accident, sickness, hospitalization, surgical or medical expense.

A few other highlights of the Company's 1948 annual statement are: the net rate of interest earned on total assets reversed the trend of many years and increased from 2.94% in 1947 to 3.03%; in line with the experience of business generally, there were some increases in expenses; the rate of mortality was slightly lower than in 1947; the lapse rate was one of the best on record; and new life insurance issued during the year was $2,904,157,071. The amount held for dividends payable to Metropolitan policyholders in 1949 totals $152,067,254.

Metropolitan investments continued in 1948 to serve various sections of the nation and its economy. The Company is interested in making loans, irrespective of size, to either individuals or corporations, which meet the legal requirements with which it must comply.

A more complete review of the Company's affairs will be found in its Annual Report to Policyholders, which will be sent to anyone on request.

FORWARD, MARCH!

- March is here again, the month that heralds spring—and spring housecleaning!
- In Grandma's day, housecleaning—and housekeeping, too—meant endless rounds of back-breaking drudgery. But today, millions of wise homemakers call on electric service to take the work out of housework—to cook and clean, wash and iron, sweep and sew.
- For less than you'd pay for a daily pack of cigarettes, electricity makes life easier, healthier, more comfortable. What other item in your family budget gives you such great living value—at such little cost?

Press Relations Much Improved

Veteran Newsmen Given Credit For Improving Governor's "Press"

OTHER NEWS OF STATE ACTIVITIES

HARRISBURG, March 15—(INS)—Robert C. McCormick, a veteran newspaperman retained by Gov. James H. Duff, has done much to improve press relations for the chief executive. . . . Duff's press prior to McCormick's appointment left a lot to be desired, a fact which the governor had been reluctant to admit. . . . Duff was never a publicity-seeker while attorney general in the Martin administration, an attitude which he carried over to the governorship. . . . McCormick is on the State Commerce department payroll for $10,400 a year but is answerable only to Duff.

The Pennsylvania Motor Truck association, waging a legislative battle to liberalize gross weights of the huge vehicles which ply Pennsylvania highways, has issued a booklet stating that the annual payroll of the trucking industry amounts to $862,500,000. . . . The combined payrolls of Pennsylvania's anthracite and bituminous coal industries is $582,789,000, according to the association. . . . The trucking industry employs roughly 345,000 workers or two and a half times as many as the railroad industry, the pamphlet asserts.

The Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police association has issued the results of a survey of 1947 per capita costs of police protection in the state's 46 third class cities. . . . It revealed that Harrisburg spent $4.73 per capita for protection, more than any other third class city with a population over 20,000. . . . Coatesville, in the 10,000 to 20,000 population bracket, led all other third class cities in per capita expenditures, with an outlay of $4.92. . . . The association pointed out that Coatesville employed only 22 policemen while Harrisburg had a force of 142 men. . . . The average for all the third class cities was $2.70.

More than 15,000 persons have visited the State Museum and inspected the gifts sent Pennsylvania by a thankful French people aboard the "Meriel Train". . . . The exhibit is slated to close March 18 and the gifts will be distributed among those communities filing requests with the Central Pennsylvania committee which handled the food collections in 1947.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

William Dana Orcutt came home one evening from a conference with George Hecht, manager of the Doubleday retail shops. "Hecht told me," he reported to his wife with relish, "that in their Wall Street shop, patronized almost exclusively by men, solid, serious books outsold frothy fiction almost 10 to 1."

"In uptown branches, however, where the customers usually are women, it's the inconsequential love stories and murder tales that get the big play. Interesting commentary on the sexes, isn't it?"

"Quite right," snapped Mrs. Orcutt. "You are aware, of course, that the men are buying the good books to take home to their wives, and the ladies, wise to the ways of keeping peace in the family, are acquiring the trash to give to their husbands."

Somebody once defined "honorarium" as a "twenty-dollar word designed to dress up a ten-dollar editorial fee."

Rumors Russia Seeks To Dispose Of Marshal Tito

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager International News Service)

PARIS, March 15.—French Foreign office circles expressed growing concern over rumors that Soviet Russia is planning to precipitate serious trouble in the Balkans to dispose of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

These sources reported a definite intensification of Soviet-inspired pressure tactics although the means to be followed in "liquidating" the Yugoslavian ruler are not known definitely.

Paris observers linked the reports with recent Athens dispatches telling of a move to create a "free Macedonia" by Bulgarian, Albanian and Greek factions that oppose not only Tito but Greek guerrilla forces as well.

Movement Under Way
Military authorities in Athens disclosed last week that such a movement is under way. They quoted Communist spokesmen in the Greek capital as saying that Greek Communist leaders had "betrayed" their mission and that new moves could be expected to consolidate dissatisfied elements.

Marshal Tito's position has been unstable since he was denounced by other Soviet satellite nations in the cominform.

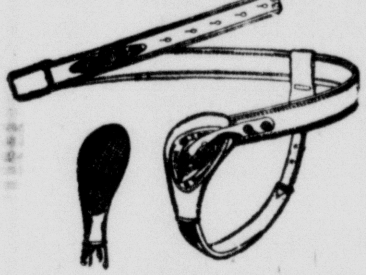

The Paris reports indicate an attempt to foment an uprising in southern Yugoslavia with the aim of unseating Tito. The possible extent of the conspiracy was indicated by one dispatch which said that the gauge of the railway line running along the Russo-Hungarian frontier has been standardized with the obvious intention of facilitating troop movements.

A change in the Hungarian railway gauge also would mean that Yugoslavian trains would not be able to enter Hungary, hampering Tito's trade channels and aiding in isolation of his country.

The Paris reports indicate that some major Balkan trouble to carry out the Kremlin's campaign against Tito's continued leadership of Yugoslavia may be expected within a week or 10 days.

Pilots Learn Jet-Flying In "Captiv-Air"

Down near Phoenix, Arizona, there's a sleek, high-powered F-80 "Shooting Star" that has given hundreds of air force pilots their first experience in flying a jet airplane—and yet it has never left the ground.

It is called the "Captiv-Air" and it is a regular jet aircraft complete with wings, jet engine, and instruments. It could fly at 600 miles per hour and climb to 45,000 feet, if it had its landing gear restored.

Yet it is worth much more embedded on steel-reinforced supports at Williams Air Force Base. After the student is thoroughly familiar with the "Shooting Star" on the ground, he advances to actual flight training in TF-80e two-seater jet planes. During the four months at Williams, the cadets spend from 65 to 80 hours in the air.

Aviation cadet graduates receive their pilot's wings and a reserve commission as a second lieutenant. Outstanding graduates are given a regular commission immediately and the others have the opportunity to apply for regular commissions while on active duty.

To be accepted for cadet training, men must be between the ages of 20 to 26½, have two years of college or be able to pass an equivalent educational examination and the physical qualifications. Both married and single men now are eligible. The aviation cadet examining officer will be at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station, Room 400, Frew building, New Castle, on March 19, 1949. For more detailed information contact your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, located in the Frew building, or Room 202, Post Office building, or by telephoning 4745.

Watermelon Appeal Gets Good Results

ASBURY PARK, N. J., March 15.—(INS)—A three-year-old Asbury Park, N. J., boy, thanks to the generosity of police and residents in three states, today has the watermelons he needs to fight off a kidney inflammation.

Monmouth county police broadcast an appeal for watermelons for Leroy Holloway, Jr., son of the Asbury Park police chief. The youngster has been in a hospital since March 6 with nephritis.

The boys' doctor, Francis J. Guido, said that watermelons or their seeds will help the child recover. First response to the radio appeal with a telegram from a police lieutenant in Miami Beach, Fla., who said he was sending two watermelons by air liner.

Later, William Blankstein, of Brooklyn, notified New York police that he had two melons for young Leroy. The melons were picked up by the police and sent to the New Jersey hospital by a siren blowing New York police car.

Would Eliminate Criminal Comics

HARRISBURG, March 15.—(INS)—The number one pastime of most kids—and a lot of older folks—was under fire today in the House by Rep. T. Luke Toomey (R) Perry. Toomey sponsored a bill to prohibit the publication of "criminal comics" under stiff penalties of fine or imprisonment.

The Perry County legislator proposed a $500 fine or one year imprisonment on anyone who "sells, gives away or in any way furnishes to any person under the age of 18 any book, magazine, newspaper or other publication in which there is printed a comic strip which portrays an account of crime."

Deformed Girl May Walk Again

PITTSBURGH, March 15.—(INS)—Three-year-old Evelyn Stypula, whose feet and left hand were deformed at birth, may be able to walk soon as the result of amputations of both her legs above the knees.

The Sharsburg girl will be fitted with artificial limbs and taught to walk after she convalesces from the recent amputations.

Later an amputation of the deformed hand will be performed so the little girl may learn to use the artificial hand.

The girl underwent the operations at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh Feb. 15 and March 3. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stypula, made the heartbreaking decision to go ahead with the amputations after several surgeons advised them there was no way to correct the legs.

Sometimes we feel like a Drum Major

What a spot a drum major is in. When he does a good job, all is well. But heaven help him if he drops the baton!

We know how he feels. We handle the world's Number One cars and trucks... and folks watch us as closely as they watch any drum major. But we have no intention of making a slip—dropping the baton, so to speak.

We have too much at stake.

Chevrolet has sold more cars and trucks over the past 18 years than any other manufacturer. As Chevrolet dealers, we have shared in that record of leadership.

And, we are proud to say, we have shared in Chevrolet's postwar record. Since the war, Chevrolet has proved its right to leadership by delivering half a million more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer. Chevrolet was first to deliver a million cars and trucks in a postwar year.

Yes, we're out in front... knowing only too well that there's more to leading a parade than just marching.

For in spite of Chevrolet's outstanding record of new car and truck deliveries, still more folks want Chevrolets. Until everyone who wants a Chevrolet has one, we have our work cut out for us. Like the baton-twirling drum major, we must concentrate on the job at hand in order to win the applause of the crowd.

And the job at hand, as we see it, is to support Chevrolet 100% in its established policy of delivering to the public as many cars as possible... at the lowest possible price.

WE'RE OUT IN FRONT IN SERVICE, TOO

Philadelphia Police Ordered To Fight Crime

Force Of 500 Police Cars Ordered
Into Continuous Patrol Duty
Of Streets

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.—(INS)—A force of 500 police cars was ordered into continuous patrol action on Philadelphia streets today to combat crime.

Public Safety Director Samuel H. Rosenberg announced the augmented guard as 900 officers pressed search for a man who fatally shot two state liquor store employees during a holdup last Saturday.

Rosenberg said his department would have to borrow cars from "other police units." Detectives reportedly will be called upon to use their own automobiles in patrol work.

Ask Citizens' Help

Mayor Bernard Samuel previously had asked all citizens to aid authorities in their drive to make streets "safe for our people."

Police records disclosed that nearly 200 holdups have been committed in Philadelphia since the first of the year.

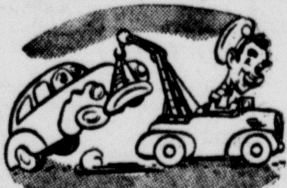

Rosenberg told a conference of 50 top police officials yesterday that "police practices which have outlived their usefulness" will be abandoned. He said "laxity" would not be permitted.

The two fatal victims of the liquor store bandit were Herman Weintraub, 38, and Howard Robinson, 37. The gunman also seriously wounded Fielder Jackson, 23, who was taken to Pennsylvania hospital.

Three towns in Pennsylvania are named for Maj. Gen. Arthur St. Clair, famous Revolutionary war soldier. St. Clair helped to establish Pittsburgh's steel industry when he built and operated the Hermitage blast furnace in 1803.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Youth Agencies And Democracy

American families are fortunate in having so many fine youth agencies to which the young people of the family may belong. This week one of these groups, the Camp Fire Girls, is celebrating its national birthday.

Fathers and mothers will be interested to know that the Camp Fire Girls are working hard to help their members learn a kind of living democracy that should carry over into home living. Not only does the program stress the good-neighbor policy through sending food and clothing to needy youngsters abroad, but in the everyday activities of the members the ways of democracy are being learned.

Here, for instance, is a description of a meeting of seven-and-eight-year-olds. The girls are planning a hike. After there had been a majority vote to go on the hike rather than to visit the newspaper plant in town, "winners and losers enthusiastically joined in making the next decisions: Sue and Jane would choose the trail, Dot and Betty would do the marketing, Peg would supervise the lunch-packing," and so on through the group. Each group was proud of its own part in the co-operative expedition; each felt a personal responsibility toward making sure that everyone had fun.

Attachment Writ Ties Up Cargo On Russian Ship

CAMDEN, N. J., March 15.—(INS)—A writ of attachment today tied up a $160,000 cargo of furs delivered to the Camden marine terminal by the Russian ship Molotov.

The writ was obtained by the Camden fibre mills of Philadelphia to satisfy a $284,000 damage claim against Amtorg, official Soviet trading corporation.

Contract Ignored
Amtorg was charged with failing to fulfill a contract to sell 5,000 tons of high-grade cotton lint to the mills as exclusive buyer in the United States.

The 1200-ton steamer Molotov is scheduled to sail back to Russia with 385 officers and crewmen of the old cruiser Milwaukee, used by the Soviet navy during World War II.

Official ceremonies marking the return of the Milwaukee by the Soviet government are slated to take place at 4 p. m. today off Lewes, Del.

Survey Shows Fruit Buds Are Advanced

HARRISBURG, March 15.—(INS)—A federal-state crop survey as of March 1 disclosed fruit buds were much advanced as a result of the mild February weather.

Snow did relatively little damage to winter grains, pastures and meadows, according to a state department of agriculture announcement.

Wheat, barley and grasses on March 1 were greener than usual for the time of year while a little growth was found in southern areas where mild weather prevailed through most of the winter.

Plowing Done
"Weather conditions continued to favor outdoor work on Pennsylvania farms," the department reported. "An unusual amount of spring plowing was done during February, providing some assurance for timely planting of spring crops."

February temperatures averaged seven degrees above normal while precipitation for the past four months exceeded the average by about three inches.

Maple sap started running around February 15.

The dodo, a bird native to Mauritius, an island in the Indian ocean, was nearly the size of a swan, and could not fly. It lived in the island forests and has been extinct since 1681.

More people are now working on United States farms than at any time since 1940.

ALL SERVICE
CLUBS JOINING

Mark Love

How a song brought the urge to live back to a mentally ill GI in an army hospital will be one of the personal experiences related by Mark Love, education director of Curriess Candy company, Wednesday evening March 16, when he presents "The Romance of Uncle Sam" at the meeting of the combined service clubs of the city at the Cathedral, preceded by dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

The program, which will begin at 8 p. m., is made available by Otto Schneringer, founder and president of Curriess Candy company, as part of the company's public service program.

"The Romance of Uncle Sam" is a program built around our American heritage and the principles of our American way of life; and during it Mr. Love will tell of many instances of heroism and courage he encountered during World War II as he presented more than 2,000 performances of a camp show entitled "Baby Ruth Quiz".

He will also tell how music has helped rehabilitate mentally wounded soldiers and will sing such favorite American songs as "Old Man River", "Coming Home" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The belief that only constant alertness will protect the freedoms so precious to every American prompted Mr. Schneringer to make the program part of the company's public service activities, through which it is made available to universities, high schools, conventions and civic organizations.

This will be ladies night, and is expected to bring out a large attendance from all of the clubs, along with their lady folks.

TYPICAL CO-OPS THAT ESCAPE FEDERAL INCOME TAXES

Pictured are a number of "big business" cooperative corporations, the income tax exemptions of which are objected to by private companies. (1) Huge feed mill, elevator and seed plant of Eastern States Farmers Exchange at Buffalo, N. Y., valued at $6,400,000. Eastern States co-op does nearly $80 million in volume annually and is wholly tax-exempt. (2) The 17,500-barrel-a-day petroleum refinery of Consumers Cooperative Association, Kansas City, at Coffeyville, Kansas. CCA owns four other refineries, an interest in a fifth and operates 924 oil wells. In 1948 its volume was over $54 million and profits in excess of $8 million. (3) One of the largest sugar refineries in the world is this income-tax-free plant of the California & Hawaiian Sugar Co. at Crockett, Calif. (4) The facade of the new million dollar office building of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association, St. Paul, Minn., wholly income tax free. This co-op increased its net worth from $30,000 in 1938 to more than $17 million today due in part to its tax-free status. (5) The Springfield, Mo., feed mill of the Missouri Farmers Association. It did a volume of $14 million in 1947 and is exempt from payment of federal income taxes. (6) The new 45,000-ton fertilizer plant of the Michigan Farm Bureau Services at Saginaw, Mich., also tax exempt. (National Tax Equality Association, 231 So. LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill.)

United Engineering Company Issues Annual Report

Outlook For 1949 Is Said To Be
For 'Active Year'; High
Rate Of Operations

Record sales and earnings are reported by the United Engineering and Foundry company for 1948.

The outlook for 1949 is said to be "an active if not another record breaking year."

The report to the stockholders shows a net income from 1948 of $5,045,972. This is equal after dividends to $6.08 per common share as compared with $3.433,305 or $4.12 per common share in 1947.

Net sales for 1948 were $52,473,267 as against $40,829,052 for 1947.

Operations for 1948 were virtually at capacity throughout due to a substantial backlog at the start of the period and persistent demand throughout the 12 months. This was true in both domestic and foreign orders.

The backlog at the start of 1949 insures a high rate of operations, F. C. Biggert, Jr., chairman of the board and K. C. Gardner, president, said.

It was announced that the company has paid 202 common dividends in a continuous 48 year record of payments to share holders.

The company's $1,700,000 general office building in downtown Pittsburgh will be occupied sometime this spring. Economies in operation are expected to result.

Survey Under Way In Perryopolis

PERRYOPOLIS, Pa., March 15.—(INS)—A population and economic survey to qualify Perryopolis for the $1,400,000 estate of Mrs. Mary Fuller Frazier is under way.

The confidential census is one of the phases of preliminary work to establish the community's major needs. A 25-man crew must interview every family concerning their property, skill and incomes.

The money was willed to Perryopolis by Mrs. Frazier last summer for community improvement.

HALF MILLION AUTO LIGHTS ARE INSPECTED

HARRISBURG, March 15.—(INS)—The lights of nearly a half-million automobiles were inspected on Pennsylvania highways last year by state troopers especially assigned to enforce headlight regulation, according to a report by state police.

There were 478,937 cars examined, and violations resulted in the issuance of 117,255 warning cards.

In 1947, state police stopped 285,540 cars for headlight inspection and 91,751 warnings were issued.

In 1948, there were 690 arrests for various light violations, while 628 were arrested in 1947.

Charge Red Papers 'Grossly Distorted' Acheson Statement

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(INS)—The State department charged today that Communist newspapers in Berlin and Vienna "grossly distorted" a statement by Secretary Acheson to make it appear he would not cooperate with Russia on a German peace settlement.

Michael J. McDermott, department spokesman, said the distortion involved a comment at Acheson's news conference last Wednesday. The secretary said at that time that he foresaw no meeting with France and Britain on the handling of the Western Zone in Germany.

The matter of a settlement with Russia was not mentioned and Acheson said that arrangements for integrating the American, British and French Zones was going on through normal diplomatic channels.

McDermott said that apparently on the basis of this comment, the Vienna Volksstimme, under a dispatch from London, said that the "United States wishes no cooperation with the Soviet Union on a German peace treaty in the conference of foreign ministers."

Economic Crisis Will Face China After Red Peace

SHANGHAI, March 15.—(INS)—Chinese Premier Ho Ying Chin said today that China's economic crisis will be its most difficult problem following peace with the Communists.

He told newsmen he hoped the United States would continue its economic aid to China following an agreement between the Nationalists and Communists.

Ho made his statement while reports reaching Shanghai said Communist General Chen Yi was deploying his 300,000 men for an assault on the remaining Nationalist footholds on the north side of the Yangtze river.

The newly chosen premier spoke briefly to newsmen after an all day meeting with political and civil leaders in Shanghai in an attempt to form a streamlined cabinet to end China's Civil War.

The meeting was held despite reports of renewed fighting between Nationalist and Communist troops on the north side of the Yangtze.

Librarian Retires After Many Years

PITTSBURGH, May 15.—(INS)—When Ellwood H. McClelland retired as technology librarian of the Carnegie Library in Pittsburgh after 44 years of service, he left his mark on numerous "industrial miracles" that have been wrought.

McClelland, of course, does not take complete credit, but it is widely known that it was through his efforts that many of the advances were made possible, for he developed a technological library which is rated among the top in the world.

His collections include basic research literature on iron and steel, the glass and chemical industries, among others.

The White Russian, Artemi Roobleff, gave international News Service an exclusive eye-witness account of conditions in Tientsin where he spent a month before making a perilous trek to Shanghai, much of it through Red territory and afoot.

Roobleff said 1,500 foreigners, including 80 Americans and 250 British, remain in Tientsin.

Half Million Loss In Berwyn Fire

BERWYN, Md., March 15.—(INS)—A block square shopping center in Berwyn, about 10 miles from Washington, D. C., was razed by fire Monday at an estimated loss ranging up to half a million dollars.

Police estimated that eight persons were injured, none seriously, including several who leaped from their second story apartments in the building and firemen cut by flying glass from exploding fuel oil.

The shopping center, located on U. S. Route No. 1 from Washington to Baltimore, included a gas station, drugstore, restaurant, liquor store, dance hall, dry cleaning office, print shop, florist and barber shop.

All fire apparatus in Prince Georges county, two from Montgomery county and two from Washington were called out to fight the blaze which is believed to have started in the basement of the restaurant.

MEAT SUPPLY IS ADEQUATE

CHICAGO, March 15.—(INS)—A good supply of meat was reported available throughout the country today by the American Meat institute which added that wholesale prices averaged 22 per cent below last summer's peaks.

The institute said that although there has been a seasonal decline in the number of meat animals sent to market by farmers, the supply of meat available to consumers has not been affected.

New "War Scare" By Soviet May Be Developed

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager I. N. S.)
PARIS, March 15. — American embassies and the French foreign office are reliably reported "on the alert" today for a new Soviet "war scare" move.

The U. S. State department is understood to have warned its embassies that the Soviets may attempt to stir up a new crisis in hopes of obtaining a pro-Russian settlement of the cold war. Diplomatic observers believe that the Soviet move may take the form of an occupation of Finland.

French foreign office spokesmen, on the other hand, suspect that the Kremlin may first attempt to clean house behind the iron curtain and liquidate Marshal Tito—the Peck's bad boy of the satellites—who has flouted Moscow's authority.

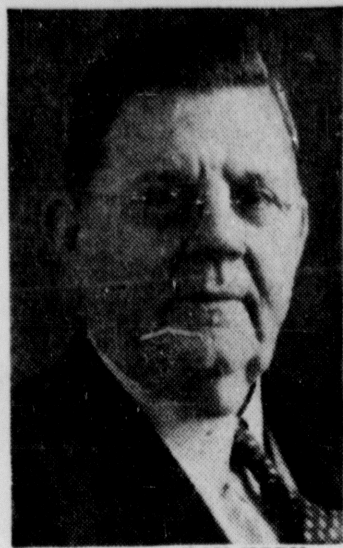

In this connection, a Hungarian businessman—regarded as a reliable source of information—reported in Geneva last night that he saw Soviet motorized units "on a war footing" moving through Budapest toward Yugoslavia.

Wednesday evening the Wolves club will meet in conjunction with the Kiwanis club of this city, for the first good fellowship dinner-meeting at 6:30 o'clock, at the Cathedral.

Mark Love, of the Curtis Candy company, will be the speaker of the evening.

Baker Succeeds Van Horn In B. And O. Post

CHARLES E. VAN HORN

WILLIAM C. BAKER

Of interest to many here, who are well acquainted with both men, is the announcement of the retirement of Charles W. VanHorn as vice president in charge of operation and maintenance for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, who will be succeeded by William C. Baker, who has been his assistant since June of last year.

Mr. Van Horn concludes 52 years of service with the company, having started as a clerk in the freight office at Fairmont, W. Va., and working right up the ladder. He was division superintendent here in 1917 and became general superintendent of the Maryland division in 1923 and vice president in 1940.

Mr. Baker entered B. and O. service as a clerk at Baltimore in 1906 and served as superintendent of the Akron division from November 1, 1936, until March 1, 1942, when he became general superintendent of transportation at Baltimore. During his time as superintendent of the Akron division he became well acquainted in the local district and has a number of friends who will be pleased to learn of his advancement.

Sheriff Coen Talks To Pomona Grangers

Plain Grove Grange Plays Host During All-Day Sessions Of County Grangers

Plain Grove Grange was host to Lawrence County Pomona Grange at its regular meeting Saturday when worthy Master Glenn Patterson, presided. Following the reports from subordinate and juvenile granges of the county, Mrs. C. W. Cochran of Willard, presented the topic, "Should Education On The Effects of Alcohol Be Compulsory in Public Schools". The speaker stressed the fact that teaching the evil effects of alcohol is as necessary as instruction of mathematics, English or any of the basic subjects taught in the schools. More visual material should be used in illustrating the evil effects.

A discussion on the topic followed, revealing the opinion of the group that the harmful effects of alcohol should be taught through the first 12 years of a child's education by a carefully selected instructor. Ed. Garner, Master of Plain Grove grange extended words of welcome with Harry McCurley responding on appreciation of the grange.

The afternoon session opened with selections by Juveniles of Plain Grove and Liberty Granges as follows: accordion solo, Mary Alice Burns; origin of St. Patrick, Genevieve Martin; duet, Lorraine and Nancy Stroschene; reading, Janet Maxwell; skit, Janet and Ed. Maxwell.

Principal afternoon speaker was Sheriff Frank Coen who used as his theme, "Crime Does Not Pay". He told of the three grades of crime: Felony, Misdemeanors and Summary Convictions. Chief causes of crime pointed out were: to seek material gain; crimes of sex, lust of the flesh; alcoholism, the latter which causes the body to control mind which renders one a mental case. Institutions will have to be erected for alcoholics.

The speaker stated that too many people are trying to make money the easy way, gambling, etc. He gave examples of nations falling through alcoholism and stated that the U. S. can't keep the upward stride unless something is done to improve the degrading influences.

Mrs. Harry Emery, home economics chairman, stated that the six goals to be attained throughout the county included: hospitality, hall improvements, home emphasis, health, helpful community service, help use all women in grange activities. A large number of the masters, lecturers and matrons of the county plan to attend the leadership school at Mansfield Teachers College, April 11 to 13.

Grange young people will have a party in East Brook high school on April 1. Pomona Grange will meet June 1 at Willard Grange. The annual seventh degree banquet will take place April 9, when W. S. Livengood, secretary of internal affairs of Pennsylvania will be speaker.

Suspect Hunted In Shooting Case

Information Made By Police Chief: Weidenhof Still In Critical Condition

Chief of police Robert D. Hanna, Monday, swore to an information against a colored man, suspected of having shot William Weidenhof, 8 Norris Way in the kitchen of his home, at 1:25 a.m. Monday.

The suspect is yet at large, but is being sought by authorities. Weidenhof was shot through the right chest, the bullet passing through his lungs, and lodging in a rib on the left side of his body. He is still living, but in critical condition in Jameson Memorial Hospital.

The attack is said to have followed a night of drinking at Sam Gray's place, upstairs, at 125 West Washington street.

Gray pleaded not guilty to an information sworn to by Police Chief Hanna in which he is charged with operating a disorderly house. Alderman J. C. Kennedy will hear the case this week.

Alice Weidenhof, ex-wife of the wounded man, and Cora Lower, a friend, are held, pending a full inquiry into the shooting.

If the average flash of lightning were harnessed and sold for commercial use, it would not be worth more than two cents.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 15.—Lili St. Cyr, one of the world's best undressed women, bared her feelings about California today—and the local Chamber of Commerce won't like it one bit.

The blonde strip-tease artist has spent most of her 26 years in Los Angeles—when she isn't risking a cold in various night clubs and theaters around the nation. But she thinks her old home town is composed mainly of a collection of hicks.

"Every time I try to take a sunbath in the backyard," she said, "the neighbors call the cops. They are nothing but a bunch of squares. The neighbors, I mean."

A square, the "wolf woman" quickly explained, is a long-hair, a drip, an old-fogey who isn't hip.

Miss St. Cyr, who currently is melting the fixtures at Zucca's Grand Old Opry in Hollywood, is heading for New Orleans in a couple of weeks. She is a little worried about the reception in store for her way-down-yonder-in.

"I understand they don't appreciate my type of art there," she told us in her dressing room at Zucca's.

Hubby Grand Guy

The dressing room apparently was a converted telephone booth. It was so small her husband had to talk to us through a crack in the door.

"He is a grand person," Miss St. Cyr said after her hubby got tired of conversing through the door and went on his way.

"He is a former ballet dancer, y'know. His professional name is Paul Valentine. He really knows all about acting and helps coach me with the dramatic part of my act."

Is that the secret of her success? "Oh, no," smiled Miss St. Cyr, who neither drinks nor smokes. "When I get up there on the stage I simply do the natural things."

"I love nature," she said. "But the squares in this town won't even let a girl take an innocent sunbath without hollering for the cops."

FARMS FOR PROFIT

Preston Foster probably is the only ranch-owner in Hollywood who seriously farms for profit.

He owns a big joint near Newhall, Calif., and the 640 acres are worked strictly to make dough.

Foster explained that "the only way you can prove that you're a real farmer is to make money at it. I can't see any fun in having a farm as a plaything and a place you visit only on weekends."

Chain Of Events
Result Of Blaze

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.—(INS)—A minor fire which damaged one apartment in a three-story Philadelphia building set off a chain of reactions last night.

One woman fractured a shoulder and another broke her leg when both leaped from a third-floor window.

Babies Saved

Two babies were saved when their father tossed them out the same window into the arms of passersby.

Three adults jumped safely from the second floor. Three others suffered from smoke fumes.

And 15 persons living in adjacent structures fled to the street in night attire.

The blaze was caused by the explosion of an oil stove on the first floor.

The hearing of birds is excellent, the apparatus of their ears being highly perfected.

Women Outnumber
Men In U.S. For First Time In Our History

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 15.—Women outnumber men in the population of the United States for the first time in our history, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. In 1947, there were 992 males for every 1,000 females, as compared to 1,060 males per 1,000 females in 1910. The statisticians forecast, however, that the future will bring a surplus of males at the main marriageable ages.

The decrease in the ratio of men to women was general throughout the country, with the greatest rate of change occurring in the Pacific and Mountain states. The West, however, is still the only section of the country in which men outnumber women. Figures for 1947 show 1,035 men for every 1,000 women in the Western section of the country.

Change In Ratio
The change in the sex ratio for the country as a whole is attributed by the statisticians to the decrease in immigration. During the high tide of immigration, far greater numbers of men than of women came to this country.

In recent decades, the volume of immigration has been drastically curtailed, and more females than males have come into the country," the statisticians report. "With the effect of immigration thus reduced, the ratio of males to females has declined rapidly at the adult ages, and the shift has been accelerated by the higher death rate for males than for females."

The future ratio of males to females will depend upon trends in mortality, fertility, and immigration, the statisticians say. "It is probable, however, that by 1975 the ratio will be 985 males per 1,000 females, or not much less than it is now. This will result from two contrasting influences. The ratio at ages 45 and over will continue to decline, as the foreign-born population, with its excess of males, passes out of the picture. On the other hand, due to our gains in life conservation, the sex ratio at ages 15 to 44 years will reverse its downward trend and eventually lead to a surplus of males prior to midlife. At the ages under 15, the ratio of boys to girls has increased from 1,022 per 1,000 in 1910 to 1,037 in 1947, and may increase further as the mortality in childhood continues to decline."

Predicts No War In Next Ten Years

PITTSBURGH, March 15.—(INS)—Members of the Pittsburgh World Trade Conference thought over today a speaker's prediction that there will be "no war within the next 10 years."

John F. Chapman, vice president of the McGraw-Hill International corporation, expressed that view last night in a speech at a dinner meeting of the conference.

He said the Marshall Plan, Truman doctrine, Berlin airlift, proposed North Atlantic Pact and his belief that the Russians cannot consolidate their Far Eastern gains would insure peace for 10 years.

Air Force Expands Cadet Training In Its 1949 Program

Quota Largest In Peacetime History, With Ban On Married Men Removed

The U. S. Air Force is expanding its aviation cadet program, Captain Charles E. Weddle, commanding officer of the New Castle U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting main station, announced. The quota for 1949, beginning with the April 4th class, is the largest in peacetime history he said.

In addition, the air force has lifted the peacetime ban on taking married men for pilot training. For the first time since the early days of the peacetime aviation cadet program in the 1920's, explained Captain Weddle, married men will be accepted on an equal basis with single men.

In line with this new program, there will be an air force officer at the New Castle U. S. Army Air Force recruiting main station on Saturday, March 19th at 10 a. m., for the purpose of screening interested applicants between the ages of 20 and 26½ years, and who have completed at least one-half or more credits necessary for a degree at an accredited college or university—or who will be able to pass an equivalent educational examination.

Complete information and application for an appointment with the aviation cadet examining officer, may be obtained at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting main station, room 400 Frew building, at the recruiting station, room 202 Post Office building, or by telephoning 4745.

Three Hospitals Share In County Blood Storage

Red Cross Blood Donor Program
Has Supplied 88 Pints Of Blood For Emergency Use

S. Glenn McCracken, general chairman, Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter, announced today that all the hospitals in Lawrence County are now equipped with tested refrigeration facilities for the proper storage of blood and are now receiving a supply of blood for emergency uses.

Miss Kathleen Angelillo, blood program technician, in her monthly report to the National Red Cross, shows that to the end of February, 88 pints of blood have been drawn and 51 pints actually dispensed. The remainder is in storage for emergency use at the New Castle hospital, Jameon Memorial hospital, and the Ellwood City hospitals. It was also reported that 23 volunteers have given 128 hours of time without charge to the operation of the program. These volunteers assisted in the typing and donating of the blood, and the transportation of blood and equipment to the various hospitals.

Programs Continue
Adequate amounts of whole blood will continue to be provided to all patients in Lawrence County through the fine response of our citizens for donations of blood. Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, blood donor committee chairman, stated today in commenting on the program operating here under the auspices of the Red Cross in co-operation with the Lawrence County Medical society.

Various groups and clubs in the community are wholeheartedly behind the program and have indicated their desire to support in every day possible. An example of the interest in this great peacetime effort is the donation of blood last Thursday by ten students from Westminster College, of which seven were residents of communities in distant points outside of the county, and included: Charles Dietz, Zanesville, Ohio; Lois Giffen, West Lebanon, Pa.; Marjorie Phillips, Imperial, Pa.; Anne Osterhout, Drexel Hill, Pa.; Virginia Vandersall, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Elinor Walls, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio; Dorothy Roberts, Ridley Park, Pa.; Wilmer Duff and Patricia Smith of this city, and James Hodges of New Wilmington, Pa.

It is most gratifying, Dr. Flannery said, to realize that these students recognize the great need for blood. "When you consider the large number of accidents in this county last year and also the new uses of blood that have been discovered since the war by medical science," he added, "it becomes obvious that the peacetime need is increasingly important and deserves the full support of our fellow citizens."

Aerial Photographs Of President Confiscated

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

KEY WEST, Fla., March 15.—President Truman's staff at Key West on Monday confiscated aerial photographs taken of Mr. Truman sunbathing on his private beach, and swimming.

The photographs, made by news syndicate photographers who accompany the president on his travels, were taken over by Press Secretary Charles G. Ross.

It was the first time such a thing has happened during Mr. Truman's four years as president. The photographers, who have been trying to get vacation pictures of the president for a week, to no avail, finally decided to get them on their own.

Fly Over in Blimp
They got clearance from the navy to use a blimp to fly over the base to take pictures of the president and his staff on the beach swimming.

They flew over the temporary White House, photographing it. Then flew over the beach at 200 feet, taking pictures of the president.

The president waved to the photographers with his hat. He then went into the water for a swim and was photographed waving from the water.

The photographers flew back to the Boca Chica Naval Air Station but were waved off when they tried to land.

They were kept in the air until Press Secretary Ross hurriedly in an automobile with Rear Admiral Robert L. Dennison, the president's naval aid, and James Rowley, head of the White House Secret Service detail.

Who Gave Permission?

When they were permitted to land, Ross asked who gave the photographers permission to make the pictures.

The photographers said the navy granted permission for the flight. Ross then wanted to know why he hadn't been asked, and the photographers pointed out the request had been made before Ross, who is convalescing from an operation on his arm, arrived here.

"You should have gotten permission from me," Ross said, and asked:

"Aren't you interested in the president's security?"

The photographers said that of course they are.

Ross then said he must be given the photographs because they violated the president's security.

The photographers gave Ross their film holders, but later decided to destroy their films themselves, rather than have them confiscated. This permission was granted.

The newsreel photographers turned their film over to Ross to be developed by the navy. Their film rolls contained photographic subjects not related to the confiscated pictures. The photographers said Ross told them the pictures they took of the president would never reach publication.

Seek Extension Of Turnpike To Erie

HARRISBURG, March 15.—(INS)—Extension of the westward leg of the Pennsylvania turnpike to Erie as well as the Pennsylvania-Ohio line was proposed today by three Senate Republicans.

Sen. C. Arthur Blass of Erie introduced the measure last night shortly after the filibuster engineered by Democrats came to an end. He was joined by Senators Theodore H. Doehla of Allegheny and Rowland B. Mahany of Crawford.

The bill would eliminate the provision requiring the extension to run only between Irwin in Westmoreland county and the western boundary of Pennsylvania in the vicinity of Youngstown. The Irwin-Middlesex link of the toll road was opened in 1940.

No Typewriters For Chinese Language

PORTLAND, Ore., (INS)—All the west's ingenuity probably can not produce a typewriter for the Chinese language.

It would have to type 5,000 characters, and even the optimistic president of the Underwood corporation, L. S. Stowell of New York City, admitted in Portland recently he believes such a machine never can be built. (Fifty-six symbols take care of the English language.)

Underwood can build a Hebrew typewriter that writes backwards, and an Arabic machine requiring some keys to remain "dead." But a western machine for the ancient language of the east—no.

Wabash Railroad Tied Up By Strike

Members Of Four Railroad Unions Leave Jobs At 7 O'Clock This Morning

DETROIT, March 15.—(INS)—Members of four railroad unions left their jobs at 7 a. m. today in a system wide strike on the Wabash railroad.

J. S. Dant, superintendent of the Wabash Detroit division, said all freight and passenger service was cancelled until further notice. He said the strike affects the entire system from Buffalo through Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha.

Union officials said approximately 450 engineers, brakemen, switchmen, conductors and yardmen are involved in the Detroit area. National figures were not immediately available.

The striking workers are members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Brakemen, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and the Order of Railroad Conductors.

George M. O'Reilly, chairman of the local brotherhood bargaining committee said the strike was in protest of the company's failure to settle grievances as much as seven years old. He also charged the company failed to honor directives of federally appointed railway labor panels.

Indians Scalp Scotties

Wampum trimmed the Union Scotties 51 to 31 behind the fine work of Armario and Schena, to gain the finals tonight opposing the turbulent Wildcats of the East New Castle area.

The fans are assured of two great games tonight. The admission is 50 cents to everybody.

Washington floor will be a beehive as the young cheerleaders employ the stars to win for their respective schools. The players being used in the tourney are all eligible for high school competition next year.

Hope For Big Crowd

Fran Webster, general chairman of the tourney is anxious to see a packed gym tonight for the finals of the 1949 tournament. The Wampum and Shenango tussle is a natural between two Section 23 rivals.

Baseball Must Show Cause In Suspension Action

Danny Gardella, Max Lanier and Fred Martin Seek Reinstatement In Baseball

By LES CONKLIN

(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, March 15—(INS)—Organized baseball today must answer show cause orders obtained by three players who were suspended for five years for jumping to the now defunct Mexican league in 1946.

The three are Danny Gardella, one-time outfielder of the New York Giants, and Max Lanier and Fred Martin, formerly of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Must Answer
Federal judge Edward A. Conger has ordered baseball to answer why it should not re-instate Gardella immediately or at least permit him to play with independent semi-pro teams.

Gardella has pending a $300,000 damage case in which baseball's "reserve clause" is under fire. When Danny jumped to the Mexican league he was under contract to the Giants, but still was bound to them by the holdover reserve clause in his previous contract.

Gardella's suit charges that organized baseball has threatened to declare ineligible any semi pro players who compete against the "jumpers."

Merge Hearings
The suits filed by Lanier and Martin are similar to Gardella's except that the damages they seek total $25,000.

Judge Conger, reasoning that the sport's officials would have to be on hand for the Gardella case anyway, decided to merge the two hearings in one day.

President Ford Frick of the National league said last night that if the reserve clause goes out of baseball, the whole structure of professional sports will be affected. He foresees the possibility of a maximum limit on salaries for various sports, possible as low as $15,000 in the case of baseball.

First U.P. Gains Second Half Title

Epworth Ties Wampum For Second Place On Final Night Of League Action

First U. P. won the second half race in the A church league by defeating Wampum 47 to 38 last night at the Y.

Epworth, first half champs, gained a second place tie with Wampum by edging Third U. P. 43 to 40.

In the third game on the final night of league action, First Congregational downed St. George 36 to 33.

Don Black, ex-New Castle High scoring ace, pumped in 20 points for First U. P. The new champs trailed 8 to 7 in the first period but led 18 to 16 at the half. At the end of three periods it was 32 to 28 in favor of the winners.

Wampum In Playoffs
Bob Jackson hooped in 14 more points for the winners while Procopio and Vance split 23 for Wampum. The Wampum lads played a great game and served notice they will be tough to handle in the playoff series which starts next Monday. Wampum qualified for the playoffs by winning the first half bunting in the B league.

Don Reed joined forces with Third U. P. for the big game with Epworth. The Third U. P. boys led Epworth 26 to 22 at the end of three periods of play and were apparently on their way to an upset win. Lucky Ward, Zeke Wainio and Frank Reed combined to turn the tables in the final quarter and give Epworth the win. Ward had 14 and Wainio and Reed chipped in nine each for Epworth. Don Reed got 19 for the losers and Tom Robinson added 13 more.

Mild Upset
First Congregational pulled a mild upset by taking St. George. The contest was tied at 15 all to start the third period. The winners scored 10 in that canto to six for St. George and that margin meant the ball game.

Mathews and Steinbrink split 22 for the First Congregational quintet while Ernie Hrisoulas got 12 for losers.

Yanks Lamented
Three veteran pitchers of the Boston Red Sox—Jack Kramer, Mickey Harris and Ellis Kinder, handed the New York Yankees their first exhibition defeat of the season, 4 to 1.

Pirates Beat Sox
Pittsburgh annexed its third straight win, 4 to 1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox, and got splendid pitching again from Chesnes, Casey and Werle.

Pittsburgh Pirate officials announced today that children's day will be changed from Saturday to Wednesday for the coming season. Ladies' day will continue to be observed on Thursday.

Junior Baseball Loop To Organize
Plans for the coming baseball season in the American Legion junior league will be formulated Wednesday night at the Legion Home. Meeting time is 7 o'clock. Any team that wants to participate in the 1949 diamond campaign should be represented by a manager at this confab.

Boys over 14 who were not 13 prior to January 1 are eligible to play in the junior loop. Stewart Jones, chairman of the league, is anticipating a full roster of teams with keen competition this summer and all groups interested in joining should attend the Wednesday meeting.

Freddie Smith, 32-year-old Natick, Pa., boxer, is the oldest athlete competing in intercollegiate sports at Penn State.

Colorful Career Of Bill Cissell Stilled By Death

Circulatory Ailment Takes Life Of Shortstop White Sox Paid $125,000 To Get

CHICAGO, March 15.—(INS)—Chalmers "Spider Bill" Cissell, 45, former $125,000 Chicago White Sox shortstop found suffering from malnutrition two months ago by a fan, died early today in Chicago.

Mercy hospital attendants said the ex-major leaguer's death resulted from a circulatory ailment. Cissell was discovered in a dismal South Side Chicago walkup flat last January 17 and had been hospitalized since. Hospital attendants said that only last week he was suffering from a heart condition and had been given oxygen.

Friends Take Over
The Comiskey family, upon hearing of Cissell's plight, made arrangements for his immediate removal to the hospital. His son, Gary, 13, was taken in by neighbors.

He was purchased from Portland of the Pacific Coast league and played shortstop for the White Sox until Luke Appling edged him out of the position in 1932. Appling still holds down the shortstop position today.

Cissell was traded to Cleveland and later played with the Boston Red Sox, the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants. He also was a member of the Baltimore club of the International league.

Fabulous Deal
His purchase by the White Sox was one of the most fabulous deals of the 1920s. He was nicknamed "Spider Bill" because of the manner in which he played the position.

Cissell's wife died three years ago. He is survived also by another son, Bill, Jr., 21, who is enlisted in the navy recently, and by a daughter, Charlene who is attending school at Des Moines, Ia.

Eighty-One Youths Attend Sports Meet

Fly Tying And Casting Is Explained By Instructors; Movies Displayed

Eighty-one youths, ranging in age from 12 to 18, last night attended the youth conservation movement of local sportsmen's clubs, which was held in Ben Franklin Junior high school gymnasium.

They heard 12 capable instructors in outdoors life, explain fly tying, bait casting, bait fishing, and fly casting. At the next meeting, shotgun and rifle shooting will be explained.

Four reels of motion pictures were shown. Two showed comics and two displayed fishing thrills.

All the youths enjoyed the evening and the next meeting will be held at Ben Franklin Junior high gymnasium at 7:30 p. m., Monday.

SPORT SHORTS
Maybe Les Fleming, a 35-year-old all-the-way left hander, could give the Bucs a lift at first. He hit .323 with Indianapolis in '47 and chased 147 runs over the plate. Or he may, by the competition, cause Eddie Stevens to become the type of slugger baseball men believe he could be.

The New York observers of the baseball scene appear to be inclined to the notion that DiMaggio is a composite of Ruth, Cobb, Speaker and the apostles.

Pennsylvania Athletic Commissioner Leon Rains hailed the retirement of Heavyweight King Joe Louis as a "logical move" for a "very great champion."

Penn and Penn State were the principals in the East's first college boxing meet at Philadelphia in 1919.

Homestead Gets By Midland Monday 41-38, Title Battle Is Set For Saturday

PITTSBURGH, March 15—(INS)—Aliquippa high school, backed by a 23-game winning streak, is a slight favorite over Rankin in tonight's WPIAL Class A semi-final tilt at the Pitt Stadium for the right to represent District 7 at the PIAA championship basketball tourney in Philadelphia this month.

Last night the thoroughly unimpressive Homestead Steelers had to put on their third straight last minute spurt to repulse Midland, 41-38. It was a rough, wild-shooting battle which little resembled basketball as the officials called a total of 51 personal fouls.

Previously Homestead had won very close contests from Brentwood and Charleroi.

Favorite Lose In NIBT Upsets

Kentucky, Western Kentucky, St. Louis and Utah Beaten At New York Garden

NEW YORK, March 15—(INS)—There isn't a seeded favorite in sight today following a national invitation basketball tournament quarter-final round of unprecedented violence.

Bowling Green, San Francisco, Loyola of Chicago and Bradley moved into Thursday's semi-final round—and each did it with a rebounding upset of one of the four seeded quintets.

Most outstanding victims were Kentucky, which had been aiming at a "grand slam" of major collegiate laurels, and St. Louis U., the defending invitation titlist.

Kentucky Falls
Kentucky fell before Loyola, 87 to 56, in a game that turned from a close dogfight into a rout when three Kentucky aces fouled out. St. Louis was eliminated, 80 to 74, by a Bowling Green five that got up off the ropes after losing its 6-foot 11-inch center, Charley Share, on personals.

The real thrill game of the day, and the tournament, however, was San Francisco's 64 to 63 triumph over Utah. The smooth-working Dons blew a six-point lead in the last five minutes but won on a lone one-hander by Frank Kuzara, pint-sized guard, in the last two seconds of play.

And Bradley stuck its oar in by driving from ten points behind to nip Western Kentucky, 95 to 86.

Paddy Demarco Wins Decision

PHILADELPHIA, March 15 —(INS)—Paddy Demarco, Brooklyn lightweight, capitalized on a single punch to defeat Jimmy Collins, of Philadelphia, in a 10-rounder at the Arena last night.

Demarco, 135½, floored Collins, 131½, for an eight-count in the seventh with a right to the head. Collins had held the Brooklyn slugger on fairly even terms in the early rounds.

The decision was unanimous.
